A ray of hope for the spinal cord injured

NIVEDITA GANGULY

VISAKHAPATNAM: A. Yerni Krishna, 15, was riding pillion with his uncle on way for festival shopping. That day turned into the darkest day of his life when they met with an accident on the highway. His uncle died on the spot while Krishna's lower half of the body was paralysed following an irreversible spinal cord injury. With an aim to help persons with spinal cord injuries like Krishna to survive on the excruciating road to living a life with mobility and self-reliability, The Ability People distributed wheelchairs, tricycles and artificial limbs at the Ability Rehabilitation Centre on Tuesday.

District Collector N. Yuvaraj, who handed over the wheelchairs and tricycles to three persons affected by spinal cord injuries, said that the district administration will select some NGOs in the district working for rehabilitation of differently-abled people and supply rehab aids and supportive devices at subsidised rates. "Three per cent of the total population suffer from some sort of disability. Out of this, many of them are victims of road accidents. To live a life with some amount of mobility, they require aids and devices. Currently these devices cost anywhere between Rs 5,000 and Rs 28,000. We will select some NGOs in the district and make these devices available to them at a subsidised rate for the benefit of more people," he said. Dilip Patro, director and founder secretary of The Ability People, said that the organisation's primary objective was to empower the differently-abled to become self-reliant, to live life with dignity for themselves and for their family. The rehabilitation is also offered to the people suffering from severe head injury and amputees.
