According to Dilip Patro of The Ability People, 35 persons participated in the camp. They included children from Sankalp, an institution for children with special needs run by the Naval Wives' Welfare Association, and persons from the three coastal districts of Visakhapatnam, Vizianagaram, and Srikakulam.

Soikat Ghosh Moulic, Assistant Director of MIRRTC, said the screening was done in three phases.

In all, 32 persons, including seven children, were selected and they would be given the limbs in a month.

Mr. Dilip told The Hindu that the limbs would be designed and manufactured as per WHO standards and distributed to those selected in another camp to be held in November.
