THE HINDU

Today's Paper » NATIONAL » ANDHRA PRADESH

Published: January 10, 2014 00:00 IST | Updated: January 10, 2014 06:02 IST

'Officials are ready to help persons with disabilities'

Special Correspondent

Dilip Patro of The Ability People addressing a workshop on awareness on laws and schemes for differently abled and elderly people, in Visahapatnam on Thursday.

The institution of the office of District Collector can be expected to address with compassion the grievances of persons with disabilities, Additional Joint Collector Y. Narasimha Rao said.

Addressing a workshop on awareness on laws and schemes for persons with disabilities and old age organised by Department of Disabled and Old Age Welfare here on Thursday, he said that the office of the Collector represents the Government which lays emphasis on welfare of the people. He went on to assure the gathered differently-abled persons that they can hope to get their grievances redressed by the Government and urged them to contact the officials at the Tahsildar, Revenue Divisional Officer and Collectorate with confidence.

The Government has launched a number of schemes for differently-abled and the elderly and there is a need for the people to be aware about them, Assistant Director Disabled Welfare Narasimhulu said. The Rajiv Vidya Mission did an extensive survey and found that the district has 12,862 children with special needs (CSN) in the age group 0-18 years.

The RVM has established Inclusive Education Resource Centres at 16 places in the district for training the teachers to cope with the requirement of these children, Muralikrishna of RVM explained. He can be contacted on 9441142207 for details.

Under the RVM educational resource centres for Hearing Impaired and Visually Impaired have been established in the district, he said and urged the parents, civil society organisation and others to spread awareness on them. PMK Rao of Asha Deep, working with mentally challenged persons, explained about the advantages of Niramaya scheme.

Printable version | Jan 12, 2014 5:33:41 PM | http://www.thehindu.com/todays-paper/tp-national/tp-andhrapradesh/officials-are-ready-to-help-persons-with-disabilities/article5561008.ece

© The Hindu